First, I was told to make contact but wasn't provided appropriate contact methods, thus I could only send to the email address I could find, and visited in person, which was fruitless.

If the police decide to make it a complaint, it's a decision made by you. Through my experience with the police in the past, it seems that the police are very eager to make complaints against themselves in victims' names, much more eager than actually handling the crimes, for reasons the police haven't shared.

As a conclusion, I have been trying to make progress and get my property back. Whether the police want to make complaints against themselves should not be related to me.

About the case, what you said was not the case.

First, I can only read and it should be clear since the report was made, if not earlier. I don't know who it's that the TDIU contacted.

Although the BTP office was where I reported to, they said I reported to the MPS afterwards. Regardless, information such as the time frame was provided when it's reported.

I also contacted both the BTP and the MPS multiple times over the past month and provided the information again multiple times.

On the other hand, I haven't been given information about what's on the reference number I was given, nor who was handling it.

And here I provide it again. It should be 20:30-22:30 on 9 Sep.

Dear Ms Chu,

I have received your complaint on 27/09/2025. I have logged this complaint under the following reference: PC/10663/25.

Thank you for contacting the Metropolitan Police in order to raise your concerns.

Having read your complaint I understand that you reported theft of your rucksack to the police on the 10/09/2024 (crime reference: 01/7956733/25) and you would like an update in regard to the investigation.

An initial investigation was conducted by our telephone digital investigation unit (TDIU). Sadly, as you were unable to provide an exact time frame for when the theft occurred, searching through CCTV would be disproportionate. Further to this, in the absence of CCTV, no suspects or witnesses identified and no forensic opportunities, there are no further lines of enquiry and therefore the crime report has been closed, until further evidence comes to light.

I sincerely apologise that we cannot progress the case any further, however it appears that the investigation was conducted correctly and all possible enquiries were explored. Your crime report was closed in line with our crime assessment policy.

We are committed to developing a learning culture and your complaint has been fully documented and catalogued with the Directorate of Professional Standards as part of the Metropolitan Police's organisational learning.

In addition to learning from individual cases, we use complaint information from our police complaints system` to monitor performance and to identify opportunities for learning and improvement.

Once again, I would like to apologise for your recent experience and thank you for bringing the matter to our attention.

Kind regards,

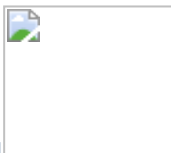

PC Sirju Raichura
